

Meet Skinfluencer, the brand redefining the world of aesthetics

This new year, if you want to achieve your face and body shape goals, then the expert team at London's acclaimed aesthetics clinic, Skinfluencer, have all the tools, techniques and knowledge to turn those dreams into a definite reality

With a flagship clinic in Chelsea, which boasts interiors created by the same team responsible for the decor of renowned French luxury Heritage brands, Skinfluencer is an aesthetics brand with a unique concept: that is, to offer medical-grade treatments through a seamless concierge-led client journey in a relaxing boutique setting — and with plans for global expansion and a skincare line in development, the brand is redefining the skincare genre, making it the very definition of luxury.

Intrigued by the advancements in energy-based skincare technologies and aesthetic techniques, the brand's founders have made these the cornerstones of Skinfluencer's unique menu of protocols, as well as including popular aesthetic go-to favourites such as injectables. Indeed, Skinfluencer's multi-modal approach of combining energy-based treatment protocols with micro amounts of injection-based interventions such as Botox and filler is receiving rave reviews from industry insiders; and has secured the clinic's nomination as a finalist for the Best New Clinic — UK and Ireland in 2022's Aesthetics Awards.

The clinic's ability to treat all manner of aesthetics concerns for the face and body can be attributed to it being armed with all the latest 'hero' technologies such as the Cutera Enlighten III, the Fotona Dynamis Pro, the Cutera Secret RF, Cutera ExcelV+, Cutera XEO Limelight, Ultraformer and CoolSculpting — something that few other clinics can boast. But, more importantly, the brand's team has uniquely combined and layered energies synergistically to devise a range of exceptional protocols. By manipulating energies such as radiofrequency, ultrasound and light, and ensuring they work in complement to each other, each patented protocol; whose quirky names such as Glow Baby Glow and Pucker Up belie their genius; deliver brilliant results and push the boundaries of what's possible to achieve with an aesthetics treatment — and with minimal downtime.

One of its most popular protocols is designed to treat the commonly lamented hooded eyes. The brand's The Eyes Have It protocol harnesses technologies from industry leaders such as Ultraformer, Fotona and Cutera for tightening of the periocular region and reducing the appearance of periorbital wrinkles to result in an overall improvement of wrinkles, laxity and elasticity in the treatment areas around the eyes.

Another testament to Skinfluencer's commitment to ensuring optimum health and radiance for every skin type is its expert team. The brand's in-house team of doctors and aestheticians are global leaders in their fields; all with a minimum of 10 years of experience and are all trained extensively, including completion of 'Skinfluencer-U', which is an intensive training programme to master the bespoke protocols. With their expert knowledge, they can curate the treatments to use more advanced parameters and layer energies from different platforms to create unique treatment offerings that are both optimally effective and garner unrivalled results.

Impressively, the brand's offerings don't start and end with the face, as it offers slimming treatments in its unique Slimfluencer Suite, an integral part of its luxurious client experience, as well as more medical-based and less glamorous treatments for veins and lesions.

In essence, Skinfluencer has curated the best technologies available on the market and assembled an unrivalled clinical team who understand how to maximise treatment results so there really is no aesthetic concern they can't treat.
