Skinfluencer

After many years of struggling with her melasma and countless treatments that ended in disappointment, Skinfluencer co-founder Sharin Shafer decided to take matters into her own hands. Situated on Fulham Road, the incredibly chic flagship has four gorgeous treatment rooms, populated by a host of expertly trained aesthetic doctors and therapists to take you from drab to fab. Meticulous attention to detail and commitment to excellence come as standard here; all appointments start with an in-depth consultation to discuss your skin and body goals before finalising your bespoke treatment plan. Book in with the incredibly knowledgeable Ridah (who's rumoured to be a favourite among members of the royal family and triple A-List celebrities) to leave looking and feeling your absolute best, with guaranteed compliments for the foreseeable. Consider us Skinfluenced.
